

Derenda Timmons Schubert, PhD

Bridge Meadows Executive Director,

Derenda Schubert created the non-profit organization Bridge Meadows, from the ground up including infrastructure development (policies and procedures), program development, new staff hires, collaborations with real estate development, property management and social services; develop program evaluation protocol and budget.

Under her leadership, Bridge Meadows completed an $11.4M capital project to build an innovative community dedicated to helping foster children become adopted, providing parents with the support to thrive, creating a meaningful and purposeful experience for seniors. She led a Development Team consisting of financiers, architects, engineers, construction, and legal professionals to create innovative, intergenerational community and is currently leading a Capital Campaign for replication and expansion of the model. Bridge Meadows has achieved national recognition via National Home Builders Association, Angels in Adoption, nominated by Senator Ron Wyden, Stanford Social Innovation Review, Generations United Program of Distinction, and PBS Newshour.
